"Hot to Cold" not looking to become a book of theory and criticism of architecture, but in a graphic catalog architectural operations and results around the world. The reflection of the opening pages is extremely necessary for the purposes of BIG, showing that the great problem of the international architecture is its indifference to context; That is evident when contrasted with graphics- through vernacular architecture. Bjarke Ingels summarizes this in a simple question: If these buildings ...

Architecture never happens in the clinical conditions of a lab. It is always responding to a series of existing conditions – the context, the culture, the landscape, the climate. Our climate is the one thing we can't escape – the one condition we always have to respond to. HOT TO COLD: an odyssey of architectural adaptation is conceived as a colorful exploration of how architecture ...
